

GREATER LONDON

Barking and Dagenham

3/491 (E.01.K107)

TQ 44008360

HEWETT'S QUAY, BARKING

Hewett's Quay, Abbey Road, Barking: An Archaeological Evaluation and Excavation Report

Hounsell, D, Grant, J & Murrey, J Hertford : Hertfordshire Archaeological Trust, 2002, 28pp, pls, figs, tabs, refs

Work undertaken by: Hertfordshire Archaeological Trust

Field evaluation revealed substantial later truncation of the site, in addition to evidence of the 19th and 20th century riverside wharves. Trench 4, also close to the Abbey road frontage revealed a further east-west aligned channel with evidence of wooden revetting along its southern edge. Its lower fills contained quantities of 12th century pottery, and its upper fill contained high medieval sherds. A further small, irregular pit contained 12th century sherds. A full excavation subsequently confirmed the dating of the feature. [Au(abr)] SMR primary record number: LAG 1/115

Archaeological periods represented: MD, PM