ST MARY-AT-FINCHLEY

St Mary-at-Finchley, Hendon Lane, London, N3. London Borough of Barnet. An Archaeological Watching Brief Report

Howell, I London : Museum of London Archaeology Service, 2002, 18pp, figs, refs

Work undertaken by: Museum of London Archaeology Service

A watching brief carried out at the church of St-Mary-at-Finchley, Hendon Lane, London, N3 for work on new drain runs and a gas service trench was monitored intermittently between 16th May 2002 and 7th June 2002 during the refurbishment of the vestry. Recent made ground deposits were encountered. A small quantity of disarticulated human bone was uncovered. All these remains had been disturbed by recent, and possibly earlier, groundwork. No archaeological deposits of interest were observed. A copper 'grip-plate' from a coffin, probably of 19th century date, was found during the course of the excavations.
