IVER TO EGHAM TRUNK MAIN

Iver to Egham Trunk Main. An Archaeological Watching Brief

Bennell, M & Stump, D Oxford : Cluttons, 2002, 14pp, figs

Work undertaken by: Cluttons

A watching brief was carried out during the construction of a water pipeline passing through Buckinghamshire, Greater London (Hillingdon) and Surrey. The route lay in an area of known archaeological potential where previous excavation and aerial photographic evidence had revealed an intensely occupied prehistoric landscape. No deposits, features or artefacts of archaeological significance were uncovered. [Au(abr)]
